Indoor soccer is one of the most popular sports in the world. All outdoor players love to play indoor soccer. Many of the practice sessions during the regular outdoor season are based on the small sided games where players get more touches on the ball and get more involved with the play. Brazil, France, Italy, Spain, Serbia, Holland, and Germany are the best soccer countries in the world because their players are technically superb/sound at getting the ball out of the back with possession and passing. They are excellent in tight spaces and have an unbelievable touch on the ball. The reason is simple – indoor soccer.

These countries have full-time indoor soccer leagues where the majority of players have started to play. The number of children playing indoor soccer is increasing every year. The field is simply reduced approximately 30m x 20m with smaller goals (2m x 3m). The game is played 6 vs. 6 (youth) & 5 vs.5 (adults). This system ensures maximum participation from each player.
